Boyer USA Resorts purchased Crystal Mountain, Washington's largest ski area, in 1997. Located just 76 miles from Seattle and 64 miles from Tacoma, the resort is situated on the northeast edge of Mount Rainier National Park, southeast of Seattle just off Highway 410. Originally opened in 1962, Crystal Mountain has grown quietly over the years. Boyer USA's commitment to further develop the facilities and promote winter activities with hopes of a base to summit tram installation has generated attention from many. Crystal Mountain ranked #7 in SKIING magazine's "Top 25 Resorts" in November 2004 and the long anticipated approval of the Master Development Plan from the U.S. Forest Service has been achieved. The first phase of the MDP launched during the spring of 2007 with the installation of the Northway chairlift.
